

PointClickCare Announces Acquisition of Industry Consulting Firm

- Integrity Group provides additional advantage to leading on-demand LTC software company -

(Mississauga, Ontario, October 1, 2007) – PointClickCare (Wescom Solutions Inc.) the leader in on-demand long-term care software, announced today that it has acquired Integrity Group Inc., a nationally recognized provider of senior health care information system consulting services. The deal adds 50 years of extensive knowledge of the long-term care industry to PointClickCare, making them the primary experts in this industry.

“We’re excited to bring the Integrity Group into PointClickCare,” said Mike Wessinger, President and CEO of PointClickCare, based in Mississauga, Ontario. “Integrity has unprecedented industry relationships among both providers and vendors. The two senior officers of the Integrity Group, Heath Odom and Shelly Dahlgren, are nationally recognized industry experts having authored numerous papers on industry issues and providing expertise to companies such as Microsoft.”

The Integrity Group was founded in 1996 and served in excess of 150 providers nation-wide, responsible for over $15.5 million in annual software and technology purchases on behalf of its clients. The company will be integrated into PointClickCare’s operations that serve approximately 2,500 long-term care centers and more than 70 multi-facility providers in North America.

“This is an excellent opportunity,” said Heath Odom, former President of Minnesota-based Integrity Group. “Our corporate vision and leadership is in line with one another. Our two companies understand the on-going hurdles the long-term health care industry faces, and that they need exceptional, cost-effective products that are specific to their needs. Our combined expertise will help PointClickCare to deliver a model that’s simple to use and allows health care managers to focus on their job and not on their management software.”
